ERRATUM

In naming the new species Hysterangium colossum (Elliott et al. 2015), we indicated that the epithet colossum was based on the Latin equivalent of the English adjective “colossal”. This Latin noun is actually “colosseus”, and so we have to make an orthographic correction as the correct Latin adjectival termination for “colossal” is “...eum” (Simpson 1959: 116). The species epithet must therefore be corrected to “colosseum”. This does not affect the valid publication of the name in our paper (Art. 32.2).

Elliott TF, Trappe JM, Weise A (2015) Australian sequestrate fungi 19: Hysterangium colossum sp. nov. IMA Fungus 6: 115–117

Simpson DP (1959) Cassell's New Latin Dictionary. New York: Funk & Wagnalls.

Todd F. Elliott and James M. Trappe
